Pastor's Reflections

Bro. Corey Fontan

*"If I would have only known how everything would have turned out,
I would have done things differently."*

Have you ever said that or some variation of that? How many times have you thought that? There is not a single one of us that doesn't wish that we could go back and have a "do over" on something based on what we know now. But so goes life... the information is not given to us in advance. Instead, we are told to "walk by faith and not by sight." We are told to trust God with each step and "He will direct our path." This is biblical counsel that each of us must follow and each of us must grow in. That's why "His Word is a lamp to our feet and a light to our path."

But, what if I told you that there is a major part of the story that we ARE told the conclusion to? Over the next several weeks, we are going to have the opportunity to dive into this story together. Revelation 4-22 unveils for us the grand story of history and how God's redemptive plan will ultimately come to fruition. The book of Revelation means just that... it is an "unveiling" and we get the divine privilege of peaking behind the curtain to see a glimpse of just what God has in store for all that He has created. I encourage you to be with us for these sermons. Gather together with your faith family as we dive deep into these pages and uncover the "unsearchable riches of God's grace". Let's avoid the dilemma of finding ourselves at the end and wishing that we would have done things differently. We don't have the excuse that we didn't know. "He who has ears to hear, let him hear..."

Making Disciples Together,
Corey

Life In Youth Group

By Sara Collier

When kids my age think of church, it's not usually a fun thought. They think of sitting for an hour, not really paying attention to someone asking questions no one knows the answer to. But that is not what I think about when I think of youth group. I've been in the Fellowship youth group for 2 years now, and I have no doubt that we've not only grown as a group, but also as individuals, as missionaries, and as followers of Christ. In the past year mostly, I have witnessed this bunch of young adults truly become dedicated to the mission that all children of God have, as well as become a big role in expanding and bettering this church altogether. Incorporating games, activities and trips into our lessons and time as a group is another factor in the amount of growing we've done, both in numbers of members and growing in Christ. Not only that, but these things also help us to get to know each other better and gain new friendships. I firmly believe if I had a problem anyone I went to in youth would help and support me without question. As a part of the church as a whole, your support for the youth group means more than you know. It means that we can continue to grow and spread the message, while creating friendships and developing our own character and the church of tomorrow. On behalf of all of the members of youth, we thank you for your continuous support and pray God continues to bless us as a group and a church.

Youth group is made up of students grade 7-12.
We meet on Sunday Evenings at 5:00 PM and Wednesday Nights at 6:30PM.
